

HFMA TEAM TOUR MEMBER COMPANY

Lanes Health opened its doors to the Health Food Manufacturers' Association (HFMA) team.

The trip to Gloucester offered an opportunity for the HFMA to discuss how a company can get the most out of membership, a chance to give an insight into what goes on behind the scenes on both sides and to get to know the team.

Martin Last Director General at the HFMA, commented: "I would like to thank Janet Groves and the team at Lanes Health for making us most welcome and sharing with us the history and future plans of the company, as well as the fascinating factory tour. It is invaluable for us as a team to get to know member companies and their personnel as it helps us shape future developments of the HFMA in learning what we need to offer members and the challenges they face. We look forward to holding more member face to face meetings in the future."
